

A plenary session of the Constitutional Court of the Azerbaijan Republic presided over by its Chairman Farhad Abdullayev took place on December 24 to consider the draft Act of referendum “On making amendments and supplements to the Constitution of Azerbaijan” earlier submitted by the Milli Majlis to the court for a judgment.

Having heard the reports by judges of the Constitutional Court and statements by representatives of an interested subject, the court decided that the proposals provided for in the draft Act of referendum “On making amendments and supplements to the Constitution of Azerbaijan” can be put to a nationwide referendum.
